

EVERYTHING DISC® – THE WAY TO INCREASED TEAM COLLABORATION.

Differences enrich people say. But when the going starts to get rough in the team and a team member is provoked by another team member that “doesn’t understand anything”, it can be difficult to view differences as an asset. Then it is nice to have Wiley’s Everything DiSC® at hand; a well-trying and constantly improved tool that makes it easier to understand both yourself and other people and also get an insight into how others look at you. It can be an awakening.

EVERYTHING DISC® IS BASED ON RESEARCH

Everything DiSC is based on many years of research within psychology and behavioral science. The tool helps us, with awareness and motivation, take the steps towards desirable change and more efficient working methods, for the benefit of the individual, the team and the organization. Some effects of Everything DiSC:

- Increased self-awareness
- Greater security and better teamwork ability
- A common language in the team and in the workplace
- Creates a dialogue about personal preferences and differences

HALF A DAY WITH EVERYTHING DISC

During half a day with Move and Everything DiSC we learn to better understand our own and others' communication styles, which improves our communicative ability in the team. We also learn how we can reduce future risks of irritation and verbal walloping and instead value the differences that can lead to new innovations and action options.

DEEPENING OF THE SUBJECT?

Let a Move consultant follow your team on a distance for four months with the help of Teambook, our digital follow-up tool. Teambook follows and supports the behavioral changes you have decided to do so that they are really implemented and are maintained over time.

ABOUT MOVE
